Gypsies in town on Tuesday.

Town Council take notice!

The Gruber family gave the proceeds of the second entertainment here, after the payment of expenses, to the fund for building a parsonage for the Methodist church.

A young man in town is intent on studying German and the almanac; in that language is the selected text-book. It is a beginning in the right direction and we hope him better success in the future.

Penmanship taught, photographs taken and, signs painted artistically by Prof. DeHerradora.

An attractive young dote in town openly claims that flirtation is his recreation. Mark it the sport will yet have his feelings hurt by some one! By whom, we wonder!

The bachelors will bear in mind the meeting to-night in the Town Hall, as business of importance will be transacted. This will positively be the only meeting this year at which applications for membership will be considered.

When in town visit Prof. DeHerradora's Gallery and examine specimens of his work as penman, photographer and sign painter.

He protests that he was out but three hours and ninety minutes, spent but two-thirds of the time in argument, subsequent slumber not refreshing. It is referred to the "Surgeon-General" to determine the nature of the man's complaint and account for the missing fraction of time.

The Young Men's Debating Society of Mount Zion College is in a flourishing condition. The membership is large and the young speakers are beginning to speak and debate with a vim and vigor that promises continued improvement in the future. The organization is creditable to Mount Zion and to Winnsboro.

Fine stamping for any kind of embroidery executed in artistic style by Prof. DeHerradora.

THE CORNET BAND.—The Citizen's Cornet Band are in need of several new horns and the members desire us to make public the request that the young people of town get up an entertainment for their benefit. They promise in consideration, to give open air concerts during next summer. This is a worthy matter for the young ladies and gentlemen to take under advisement and we hope a concert of some kind will be given at an early day.

OUR THANKS.—We are indebted to the kindness of Mr. Josiah Gibson, of this county, for a nice lot of elegant Florida oranges, sent us several days ago. They have just been received by him direct from his brother's grove in Florida. Their consequent freshness, together with the fine quality of the oranges themselves, makes them very delicious. We never fail to appreciate such evidence of kindly remembrance on the part of our friends.

PERSONAL.—Mr. M. B. McMaster has been appointed local agent for the University Publishing Company and has begun his tour over the county in the interest of Maury's series of Geographies, published by that company. Mr. McMaster is energetic and stirring and his selection for the position in question is doubtless a good one. Maury's Geographies merit the patronage and favorable consideration of all the teachers and pupils throughout the county, and we wish for our young friend general success in his new field of labor.

COTTON STATEMENT.—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending February 8, 1884: Net receipts at all United States ports during the week 109,577; to same time last year 169,577; total receipts to this date 4,664,480; to same date last year 4,494,492. Exports for the week 111,162; same week last year 126,824; total exports to this date 2,614,965; to same date last year 2,912,977. Stock at all United States ports 1,049,772; same time last year 923,578; stock at all interior towns 143,535; same time last year 160,974; stock at Liverpool 866,000; same time last year 862,000; stock of American afloat for Great Britain 306,000; same time last year 275,000.

SERGEANT BATES.—The somewhat celebrated Sergeant Bates visited Winnsboro on Monday morning. He will be remembered as the person who, in 1867, undertook to walk through the South, waving a United States flag—this, to show that a Union man with a Union flag floating in the breeze was very safe in the "latently insurrectionary" States. It is needless to say that the Sergeant was unharmed. His recent journeying seems to have no great end in view. At each place he delivers a sort of lecture upon general politics, and upon the duty of the people to take greater interest in public affairs. His address here was delivered in front of the court-house, just before the opening of the Sessions. It was respectfully listened to by a crowd of about seventy-five persons. The Sergeant has given up marching. He rides on the railroad.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Capt. J. P. Macfie, who resides about eight miles from town, met with a very painful and serious accident on last Tuesday, the 5th inst. Attending to the cutting of some trees near his house on the morning named, the Captain was in reach of one of the trees when falling, and attempting to get out of the way, one of the limbs from the falling tree broke off and struck him a fearful blow across the head and face. The limb was of considerable size, and falling some distance, the injury inflicted was consequently of a serious character. His head is considerably bruised, but the skull is probably not fractured in any way. His face is badly hurt in addition, and he is now confined to his bed and suffers intensely. The physician in attendance pronounces the injuries not dangerous. We hope he may soon recover from the effects of the unfortunate accident.

THE MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Gruber family gave two successive entertainments in the Thespian Hall this week—on Wednesday and Thursday nights. The programme was altogether made up of musical selections upon both nights, and the general verdict of the audience is that each part of the programme was exceptionally well rendered. The performance of the little girl of eight summers upon the organ, the rare handling of the violin by Mr. Gruber himself, and last but not least the sweet and simple singing of little Annie, contributed principally to the enjoyment of a very appreciative audience. The programme upon Wednesday night was large, but on the second night, owing partly to the sameness of the programme and the fact of several appointed meetings in town for the same evening, the audience was small. Mr. Gruber, in his enthusiasm, talks and lectures too much, but with this exception the entertainments were successful and highly enjoyable.

FRANK LESLIE'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE.

The March number is promptly on our table and is filled, as usual, with delightful reading matter—edifying and entertaining, and admirable embellishments. The popular editor, T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., contributes a characteristic article, "Alarming Things of To-day," and The Home Pulpit contains one of his sermons, "Sensitiveness of Christ." "Count Zinzendorf," the founder of the Moravian Church, in North Carolina; "The Boston Institutions at Deer Island"; "Annals of Little Compton"; "Anthony Vanduyck, a Court Painter," etc., are finely illustrated and exceedingly interesting articles. The serials, "How It All Came Round," and "Wrong From the First," are continued, and the essays, sketches, poems, etc., are by popular writers. Marion Harland has a charming story, "A Practical Woman." The contents are so varied and abundant that no one can fail to be gratified. The price is twenty-five cents a number; $2.50 per annum, postpaid. Address, Mrs. Frank Leslie, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York, N. Y.

MONUMENT TO DR. SIMS.—Doctor R. B. Hanshan, of this place, has received the following letter, which we deem worthy of publication:

Dear Doctor—The undersigned having been requested to act as member from South Carolina, on the committee appointed by the friends of the late Dr. J. Marion Sims in New York, to secure funds for the erection of a monument which will substantially recognize the valuable services Dr. Sims has rendered to the profession and to the world at large, and in the earnest aid in the furtherance of the object proposed. Your individual subscription will be gladly received, and your influence in securing contributions from other sources will be of much value. The people of our State, as well as the profession, should recognize the fact that Dr. Sims was one of us, and that the honors he justly merited and secured have been reflected upon his native soil. The women of the State more especially should remember the value of Dr. Sims' professional work in relieving the suffering and in healing the infirmities of their sex; and it may reasonably be expected and believed that they will give that co-operation which comes so surely from woman's gratitude.

Contributions of any amount will be received and duly acknowledged.

Very truly yours,
R. A. KINLOCH, M. D.
Charleston, January 24, 1884.

PERSONAL.—It is with general regret that our readers will learn that the Rev. W. W. Mills has resigned the pastoral charge of Salem and Concord churches in this county. Mr. Mills has lived among us for upwards of fifteen years, and in all this time he has but grown in general esteem. He is moved to accept the call from the Presbyterian church at Camden by the fact that his health will no longer stand the strain incident to a country pastorate. While we shall be sorry to lose him, it is gratifying to know that a most cordial welcome awaits him in his new field. The Camden Journal of last week says:

It is with no little degree of pleasure when we announce the fact that Mr. Mills has accepted the call to the Presbyterian church of this place. He will probably assume the duties about the 1st of April. His acquisition to our community will be great, and to the church invaluable. We have known the distinguished divine for many years, both in peace and war, in the hilarity of youth and the soberness of manhood, and in that intimate knowledge we knew him only as the pure and sincere Christian, a man without reproach and above suspicion. Clear, logical and pointed, and with it all sincere and devout, how fortunate is the Presbyterian church in having such a pastor. We stretch out the warm hand of welcome to him, and we trust that his harvest may be abundant, and his stay with us long and pleasant.

THE TEACHERS' MEETING.

Another small meeting of the teachers was held in the court-house on Friday morning, the 2nd inst. In the absence of President Corley, Dr. Boyd, the school commissioner was called to the chair and presided during the deliberations of the day: A letter was read from Senator Butler stating that he would in pursuance of the resolutions some time since passed by the teachers of Fairfield, have the matter of increasing the appropriation for the National Bureau of Education and making it a permanent institution, referred to the committee appropriate for the purpose, and would exercise his influence to secure the passage of a measure incorporating these views. Discussions were had upon the subjects of the "standard time," the Up-Country Teacher and upon the propriety of a Teachers' Library for the teachers of Fairfield county. Upon motion, it was unanimously resolved to recommend the Up-Country Teacher to the favorable consideration and patronage of the teachers of the county. Messrs. R. B. Turnipseed, D. B. Busby, T. E. Bell, Mrs. E. P. Scott, and Miss Emily Obeare, were appointed a committee to investigate the practicability of establishing a Teachers' Library. The Rev. William Richardson of this place was elected to address the teachers at the next regular meeting. March, the 7th has been selected as the time for the next regular assembly. The meeting will be held in the court-house at the usual time. There is now some hope, that a little life and enthusiasm may yet be infused into our teachers and none will more heartily than we note the evidence of coming life. We have material of the best quality and nothing is needed but contact.

LICENSE FOR CRIME.—On last Monday, the 4th inst., the authorities of Winnsboro licensed certain men and one woman to play the tricks of their respective trades on the streets and within the incorporate limits of the town. Since that time the gentlemen in authority have appreciated the evils of Monday's work and by ordinance have increased such licenses to fifty dollars a day. The action of the council is commendable and praiseworthy, but have they gone far enough in this matter? Have they the right to license such swindling establishments at all? Are not the practices of these men clear violations of the penal laws of the State? If so, clearly no license or permit for any amount of money whatsoever, should be granted by the authorities of any town for the commission of an act esteemed and pronounced a crime against the public. Section 2,508 of the General Statutes of the State reads: "Whoever shall inveigle or entice, by any arts or devices, any person to play at cards, dice or other games, etc., or shall overreach, cheat or defraud by any other cunning, swindling arts and devices, so that the ignorant and unwary, who are deluded thereby, lose their money or other property, every such person exercising such infamous practices shall, on conviction thereof, in any court of competent jurisdiction, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor," etc., etc. Persons who saw or were in any way enticed to try their luck with the tricksters of last Monday will readily agree with us in saying that their acts and doings are covered by the section of the Statutes above quoted. We hope in future that the town council of Winnsboro will see proper to refuse license at any price to the parties referred to or any of that stripe.

THE COURT OF SESSIONS.

The business of the February Term promptly commenced—The Grand and Petit Jurors—Cases Tried.

The February term of the Court of General Sessions for Fairfield county opened on Monday morning, his Honor A. P. Aldrich, judge of the second judicial circuit, presiding.

The following grand jurors answered to their names: Saml. W. Broom, G. C. Bascot, Robt. P. Brown, Butler Burley, Gray Boulware, Ben Colvin (colored), Henry Copeland (colored), Matthew Herron, Butler P. Hoffman, Eber M. Mason, Wade Pickett (colored), Robert J. Stewart, Thos. E. Smith, Wm. L. Turkett, Jesse T. Terrace, Wm. M. Yongue. Mr. Saml. W. Broom was chosen foreman. Mr. Jesse T. Terrace was excused from further attendance.

His Honor then proceeded to charge the grand jury as to their duties. He congratulated them upon the evidences of material progress in the county, observable since his last visit. He hoped that the efforts to build factories and to diversify the industries of the State would prove generally successful. As to the duties of the grand jury his Honor reminded them that they are the grand inquest of the county—all of the affairs of the county being subject to their supervision. Especial attention should be given to the county commissioners and the trial justices. The former have entire control of the finance of the county, and their duties are therefore very important. The trial justices seem to be a very troublesome set of people. Cases of the most trivial character are heard at great loss of time, and at great expense to the county. The trial justices should exercise greater discretion in issuing their warrants.

It appears that there are a large number of criminal cases—about fifty to be tried at this term. They will consume much time, and involve great expense. It is to be regretted that the Legislature did not pass the bill to provide a stenographer for this circuit. Having such an officer not only insures much greater accuracy in the taking of the testimony, but would save much time and thus greatly decrease the current expenses of court. It is to be hoped that the Legislature will soon take steps to provide stenographers for all the circuits.

After some general instructions as to the duties of the grand jury in passing upon bills, his Honor directed them to retire for the consideration of such cases as the Solicitor had ready for them.

The Solicitor then handed out some bills of indictment, and the grand jury retired.

The list of petit jurors was then called, and the following-named were found to be present: Robt. M. Aiken, Carter Beatty (colored), J. Russell Black, John C. Burns, George Burns (colored), Robert Boyd (colored), James W. Bankhead, James M. Blain, Samuel Cathcart, Robt. Y. Clowney, John H. Cooper, James B. Duke, Charles A. Dickey, J. Spann Edmunds, Joseph C. Freshley, John M. Gayden, Wm. G. Hinant, Aleck Hughes (colored), James Jones, Thos. L. Johnston, James A. Kennedy, James P. Kennedy, John Lanhon (colored), J. C. Mackorell, Charles McVeigh (colored), J. Thos. McDonald, Jeff. J. Nelson, R. R. Park, R. A. Patrick, Wm. B. Powell, Joseph A.

Stewart, James B. Turner, Thomas Wootan. The following were absent: James F. V. Logg, Henry J. McLane, Wm. J. Wood. Mr. Wood appeared in Court later in the day.

The Court then proceeded to the trial of the case of the State vs. William Lyles, colored, charged with grand larceny—the stealing of a box of tobacco from the telegraph office at Shobon. Mr. J. W. Hanahan represented the defendant. Verdict—Guilty.

State vs. John Brown, colored, charged with burglary—breaking into a colored woman's house in Ridgeway. Messrs. Ragsdale & Ragsdale appeared for the defense. Verdict—Guilty.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Worthy Candidates for the Honors of the Bachelors' Union.

Messrs. Editors: The enclosed notices have been given us with the request that they be handed in for insertion in your columns:

Messrs. Editors: We think that by his consistent course during the last five years, and more especially the past twelve months, the President has well earned the Big Button, you will hereby announce his name as a candidate for the same, and oblige

MANY BACHELORS.

The urgent solicitations of many thoughtful and warm-hearted bachelors have induced the Prospective Attorney to announce himself a candidate for the Big Button. That he has worthily worn the small one is plain enough for his early promotion.

Messrs. Editors: Please announce the Akwood of Swat as a candidate for the Big Button at the annual meeting of the Bachelors' Union, and oblige

MANY FRIENDS.

Messrs. Editors: We hereby nominate the Grand Orator as a suitable bachelor to wear the Big Button for the next year, and hope he will be elected.

MANY VOTERS.

The Grand Jaberwock hereby announces himself a candidate for the Button at the next anniversary, assuring the Society, if entrusted to him, the same will not be disgraced thereby.

By a publication of the above you will oblige the SECRETARY B. P. U.

ITEMS FROM CEDAR CREEK.

—Mrs. James Kee, of Richburg, paid a short visit to Mr. J. A. Turkett on the 29th ult. and returned on the 2nd. She was formerly a well known and sociable resident of Cedar Creek.

—Mr. David Moore, living at Cane Creek, near Columbia, passed through our vicinity on the 27th ult. Apparently the "swamp" agrees with him, and inasmuch as he referred to pleasant by-gone days when our esteemed neighbor, we wish him abundant success in buying cattle for that market.

—The Rev. J. W. Entzinger has accepted the call at Buffalo Baptist church. He being a faithful servant in the discharge of his pastoral relations we sincerely wish him an improved health—from which indescribable blessing he has been deprived in a great measure for several years.

—The valuable horse occasionally driven to Mr. C. A. Abell's lumber wagon and owned by that gentleman took fright at the approaching cars on the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, on the 29th ult., and was thrown in a runaway by an entanglement of gears and considerably injured. The lameness appears in a front shoulder and we hope time and attention will speedily remove it.

—Under the skillful supervision of Mr. W. H. Padgett a large and capacious school house has just been completed near Abell's saw-mill. It is 24 by 14 feet, ceiling coiled, with one door in front and five large windows well fitted up with corresponding sash, etc. In addition, the thoughtful and wide-awake patrons dreading a fire-place have ordered, through Mr. J. H. Cummings, a suitable store, Miss Lula Trapp, a daughter of Mr. C. O. Trapp, of Crooked Run, will occupy it as principal. We suggest for a name "Weldon Academy."

—Mr. Simpson Sherrill, of our community, has netted during the past season upwards of one hundred and eighty partridges. We hear that another gamester of that family, Mr. Ed. Lever, has been more successful. As bird traps are rarely ever seen nowadays since the reduced rates of breach-loaders, would it not be a capital idea to suggest a thorough dispensation of such modes of procuring a pie or pet and purchase each one for another season some skeins of flax for a net. If unanimously agreed upon peas will not only be found cheap and in abundance, but the old cow now lowing at the barn-yard gate, will be made fat, and from her rich and nourishing milk be quelled the excruciating squeals of the hungry pigs.

—Tuesday, January 28, brought the Holly Dale school to a close, and as Wilkes Wyles heard the whisperings of a school basket picnic, you may rest assured he assembled as promptly as most interested patrons. Sealing himself in silence he listened and gazed with fixed attention as the well-tutored youthful scholars rehearsed in a manner not alone becoming and praiseworthy to themselves, but to their proficient teacher, a resident of Richburg. Master John W. Lever of this number acquitted himself fluently and gracefully indeed as a speaker. Had we not known the familiar name in our midst he would have been recognized as a skilled strayed musician of the wandering Italian tribe as he melodiously sounded on a music box, purchased for the occasion, the popular and well known tune, "The Old Brown Jug." The remainder of the programme was as follows:

"Hot Mud Pies"—Master George Broom.

"Honest John Tompkins"—Master George Broom.

"Music—'Shoo, Fly'."

"Sailor Boy"—Miss Maggie Abell.

"Music—'Mollie Darling'."

"Dirty Jack"—Master John Brown.

"Music—'Sailor's Wife'."

"Don't Take it to Heart"—Miss Mary Abell.

"Music—'How I Love My Lute'."

"The Ode to the Beautiful Sea"—Miss Kittie Broom.

Music—"Sweet Bye-and-bye". Dialogue—Misses Florence Ballentine, Mary Abell, Maggie Abell, Master George Broom.

There was much intervening poetry, etc., which we omit for want of space. At the conclusion of the last-mentioned we had "Home, Sweet Home" and left, all agreeing that there had been at Holly Dale a day of interest, pleasure and feasting.

ELMWOOD FARM OBSERVER.

WESTERN FAIRFIELD.

News from the Monticello and Dawkins Section—Arrests for Violation of the Revenue Laws—Mr. Sygert's Loss-Schools Needed, etc.

Messrs. Editors: The best government the sun ever shown upon continues to wage war upon its inefficient citizens and two arrests have been made in this particular section. The charges upon which the arrests were made consisted in an alleged violation of the United States internal revenue laws by certain parties who, it is claimed, have been engaged in retailing whiskey without license. George Cunningham and Adger Thompson, two colored men from this section, were arrested by a United States marshal upon the above charges. Both have since been admitted to bail and await now at home again. It is a significant fact that both men went to Columbia during the political trials as witnesses for the defense. It is well known that whiskey has been sold in this county in violation of the law, and it is right that guilty parties should be arrested and punished, but the commission of the Department of Justice (so-called) are not seeking for those who have violated the laws of the United States, but they are only anxious to punish those who have deserted from their ranks to join the side of dark deed.

Mr. J. S. Sygert, one of Fairfield's most enterprising and prosperous citizens, met with quite a heavy loss last Friday. The boiler of a sixteen-horse power engine exploded, totally wrecking the machinery and seriously damaging the property. The house had been just completed and fitted up for grinning and grinding with expensive machinery. Loss between three and four thousand dollars. The engineer was blown all to pieces, and a woman who was standing near the engine was severely injured. Both of the victims were negroes. The explosion was caused by allowing the water to get too low in the boiler, and then turning a new supply of cold water into the red hot boiler. I don't think it pays to entrust complicated and expensive machinery to the tender mercies of ignorant negroes. The negro sometimes gets killed and the machinery is sure to be damaged in the long run. This loss will be felt by the whole community as it will take some time to replace the machinery if it is ever done.

Mr. Charles Free, an old and respected member of this community, died and was buried on last Monday.

It was a surprise to me to hear that something, I know not what, in my last letter gave offense to some of the good people in this section, as I am ignorant of the cause of offense. I can do no more than say that it was not my intention to offend anyone. What was written is true, and for truth no apology is necessary.

The pages of the Broad River and Dawkins neighborhood are very anxious to have a school established near them, as it could be done without detriment to other established schools, and it would be of great benefit to the people of that portion who are at present almost deprived of any school advantages. Cannot the county school commissioner aid them in some way? The matter is worthy of investigation, and timely attention might save future trouble and be of present benefit to all concerned.

A. T. Monticello, February 4, 1884.

TO REPAIR DAMAGES.

Dear lady, there is probably no use telling you that a fashionable life in a great city is a rough one on your beauty. Late hours, loss of sleep and mental excitement will leave you by and by, and by those of those beach beauties which draw lovers around you in other years. Artificial substitutes can never pass for those rich and glossy locks. Parker's Hair Balsam will stop your hair from falling out, restore its natural color and softness, and prove cleansing and beneficial to the scalp.

TO LEASE.

TO LEASE, for a term of three or four years, a large and desirable tract of the most desirable plantations in Fairfield County, situated two miles above Ridgeway, on the C. & A. R. R. For terms, etc., address J. R. Boyles, Esq., Ridgeway, S. C., who will be found in the place during the next ten days.

WHAT STRUCK AN OLD SOLDIER.

"It will soon be twenty years since the war closed."

Under the hot sun of August, 1862, the village of Dover, N. J., lay still as the sphinx in its pride, while Elijah Sharp, of that place, slowly and softly spoke of the past. "Yes," he said, "I was in the army and saw many of the sights of those fearful years. I was finally discharged from disability, resulting from sunstroke. I came home, miserable in health and spirits; so enfeebled that I took cold on the slightest exposure. Life seemed worthless to me, I lived only in memory."

"That was sad enough," I said, dividing my last two cigars.

"I responded Mr. Sharp; 'but I got over it. Outgrew it? Not exactly. When in that condition I began taking PARKER'S Tonic, and my health commenced to improve. Right away. I was astonished at it, and so was my wife. I piled on the flesh and could eat anything. My ambition blazed up. I could attend to business, and now—excepting that I have to take care about exposing myself to the hot sun—I am as well as the day I enlisted. What difference there are in things—guns and bayonets kill; PARKER'S Tonic saves."

This preparation, which has been known as PARKER'S Tonic, will hereafter be called simply PARKER'S Tonic. As unprincipled dealers are constantly deceiving the public by substituting inferior articles under the name of ginger, and as ginger is really an unimportant ingredient, we drop the misleading word, and in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of PARKER'S Tonic, contain the genuine medicine. It is the fac-simile signature of H. H. Crook & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.
